

Piccobello

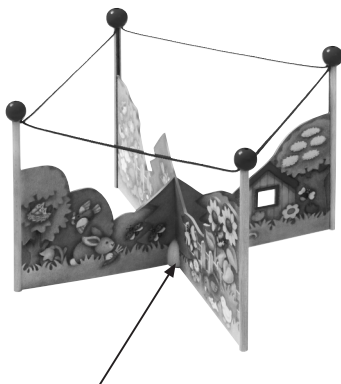

See the clothes, get ready, go!
Colourful wash-day game
for 2-4 players from 3 1/2 years.

- Game type: family game
Players: 2 to 4 players from 3 1/2 years
Contents: 1 game board,
1 clothesline,
4 washing baskets,
1 cotton bag with 30 clothes pegs,
20 items of clothing in 5 colours,
1 colour dice,
1 event dice,
1 set of instructions
Author: Anna Mauritz
Illustrations: Hannelore Wernhard

The story

Today was washing day. The clothes have been thoroughly washed so that you only have to hang them up to dry. At the moment the sun is shining, but the situation can quickly change. The first player to hang his five items of clothing up wins the game.

Preparation

Before starting to play, you insert the two halves of the board into one another and secure them with the enclosed wooden piece.

Then fix the clothesline with the attached balls to the top of the poles to form four lines of equal length.

Each player receives a washing basket with five items of clothing in 5 different colours: 1 dress, 1 pair of trousers, 1 towel, 1 t-shirt, 1 sweat-shirt.

Have the dice and the bag with the clothes pegs ready.

Aim of the game

The players try to hang their clothes up on the line as quickly as possible. The first player to do so wins the game.

How to play

The youngest player starts. He throws the colour dice and carries out the following action:

The player hangs the item of clothing in the corresponding colour, up on the line using a peg from the bag. Then he throws the event dice.

If the colour dice shows the washing basket, the player may choose any item of clothing and hang it up. He may then throw the event dice again.

Should the colour dice show the colour of an item of clothing that is already on the line, the player may not hang anything up and the next player takes his turn.

The symbols on the event dice have the following meanings:

The warming sun dries the clothes very quickly so that you may throw the colour dice one more time and hang up the corresponding coloured item of clothing shown on the colour dice.

The player is however, not allowed to throw the event dice again.

The player may hang up another item of clothing of his own choice. The player is however, not allowed to throw the event dice again.

The wind helps to dry the clothes quickly. The last item of clothing that you have hung up may remain on the line.

The rain makes the clothes wet again. You must remove the last item of clothing that you have hung up from the line.

When the player has had his turn, it's the turn of the next player in a clockwise direction.

End of the game

The game ends with the first player to hang up his last item of clothing, without having to remove it from the line again after he has thrown the event dice.

The first player to hang up all his clothes wins the game.

Good luck drying your clothes!

